

North Fish is the established chain of quick service restaurants specialises in high quality fish and seafood dishes as well as burgers, wraps, sandwiches, soups and smoothies, prepared according to signature recipes. The company has been operating in the hospitality industry since 2002 and is controlled by Michal Solowow, one of the wealthiest Polish entrepreneurs.

Following its success in shopping centre and high street locations in Poland, the brand starts UK expansion, as part of the North Food's European and global expansion plans, initially with sites in major shopping centres. The brand will open its first stores by the end of this year, in the UK's top shopping and leisure destination: at the Bullring Shopping Centre in Birmingham and its first London restaurant in Westfield Shopping Centre.
